Invitation

The Congress of the International Society of Developmental Biologists (ISDB) will be held in Sydney, Australia, 3 - 7 September 2005. ISDB is the joint society of developmental biology societies worldwide and holds its Congress every four years in beautiful and strategically located cities around the world.

The ISDB Congress provides a forum for developmental biologists from all branches of the discipline to converge for discussions of their research and to form and strengthen networks by sharing knowledge, techniques and perspectives.

As one of Asia-Pacific's leading financial and tourism centres, Sydney is an ideal city to host the ISDB Congress 2005. An impressive program of science and trade opportunities is being planned with the objective of making the 15th International Congress the most exciting meeting in the history of the Congress and an important landmark in our field.

We welcome your participation and hope to see you in Sydney in 2005.

Professor Richard P Harvey, Chair

Organising Committee

Richard Harvey (Chair)

Sally Dunwoodie (Co-Chair)

Peter Currie (Program Chair)

Hosted By

This project is proudly supported by the International Science Linkages programme established under the Australian Government's innovation statement Backing Australia's Ability

Venue

The ISDB Congress 2005 will be held at Sydney's famous Convention & Exhibition Centre, Darling Harbour, situated on the waterfront of Sydney Harbour. The Sydney Convention and Exhibition Centre is the largest and most technologically advanced facility in Australia having been purposely built to host a spectrum of conventions and exhibitions. It is only five minutes from Sydney's city centre and Opera House, and within walking distance of many restaurants and shops.

Scientific Program

The scientific program of the ISDB Congress 2005 will be structured around Plenary Sessions and concurrent thematic Symposia. Plenary Speakers will be drawn from eminent scientists and scientific ambassadors in the fields of developmental biology and genetics, and will include Nobel laureates and others working at the pinnacle of their disciplines.

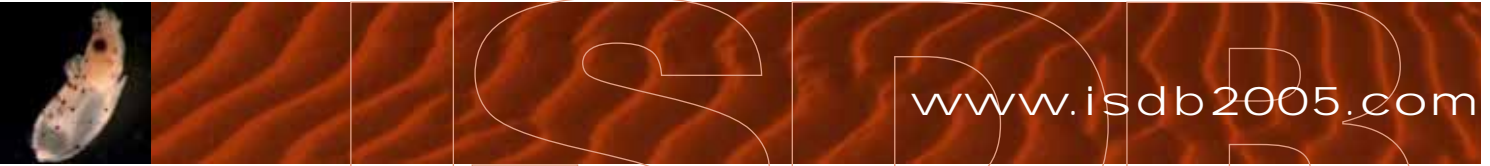

There will also be twenty-one thematic Symposia, with three concurrent Symposia running in the morning and/or afternoon sessions on all full days of the Congress. Each Symposium includes three distinguished invited speakers presenting papers, a total of sixty-three speakers, and two papers selected from submitted abstracts presented by delegates.

15th International Society of Developmental Biologists Congress

Call for Papers and Posters

The 15th International Society of Developmental Biologists Congress 2005 Organising Committee invites papers on all aspects of developmental biology including patterning, organogenesis, morphogenesis, polarity, cellular and embryonic asymmetries, cell adhesion and migration, neural networks, germ cells, stem cells and regeneration, signal transduction, genomics and imaging.

Oral presentations in Symposia sessions and posters will be selected from submitted abstracts.

Abstract Submission Deadline
25 May 2005

IMPORTANT

All accepted abstracts will be published by Elsevier, in a special edition of Mechanisms of Development. Any abstracts received after the deadline of 25 May, will NOT be included in this journal.

Abstracts must be in English.

All papers are to be submitted electronically via the Congress website www.isdb2005.com

It is a condition of acceptance that the presenting author must register and pay the registration fee for the Congress by 25 May 2005.

All presentations must be given in English by one of the listed authors.

The policy should include loss of fees/deposit through cancellation of your participation in the congress, or through cancellation of the congress, loss of international/domestic air fares through cancellation for any reason, loss of tour monies through cancellation for any reason including airline or related services strikes within Australia, failure to utilise tours or pre-booked arrangements due to airline delay, Force Majeure or any other reason, medical expenses (including sickness and accident cover), loss or damage to personal property, additional expenses and repatriation should travel arrangements have to be altered. The congress managers cannot take any responsibility for any participant failing to arrange their own insurance. This insurance is to be purchased in your country of origin.

15th International Society of Developmental Biologists Congress

Trade Exhibition

A comprehensive Trade Exhibition will run concurrently with the Congress. The Trade Exhibition will showcase the best and latest of all technologies associated with developmental biology, cell biology, genetics and genomics. The exhibition package has been designed to provide the best possible exposure for your organisation so as to promote your products and services to your key target market.

Exhibitor products and services will include:

- Imaging
- Computing
- Laboratory hardware
- Animal models
- Animal house hardware
- Whole animal phenotyping
- Microscopy and other imaging technologies
- Microinjection techniques
- Gene delivery technologies
- Antibodies and Cell Biology techniques
- Publishing

Companies interested in booking space are urged to contact the Congress Managers urgently to ensure prime booth position.

Sponsorship and Advertising Opportunities

This prestigious international Congress offers some outstanding marketing opportunities to gain valuable exposure in which to consolidate or increase your market position with the industry. The Congress also represents a clear opportunity to demonstrate your commitment to this field.

A range of sponsorship packages have been created to suit a variety of marketing objectives and budgets. These include major, event, scientific program and advertising focused packages. To request a copy of the Sponsorship Prospectus with full details, please contact the Congress Managers.

Private Touring/Hospitality Arrangements

Should you have any specialised group requirements for private touring, transportation or hospitality services other than those organised for the official program, please contact the Congress Managers who will be pleased to assist with arrangements.

Private Functions

It is requested that you advise the Congress Managers of any private/corporate functions that might be planned outside of the official program. The Congress Managers will be pleased to assist with arrangements for any of these events.
